

The writers' note

A Book chapter is the work of several teachers and students collaborate together to form a book entitled Language and Culture Heritage in Sumatra. This kind of activity really supports the careers of lecturers and students in developing academic field. Writing activities include work that demands high patience from the writers.

Language and culture are God's eternal creations that will never end at any time because language itself is one of the requirements of life in the world including its culture. Therefore, the author invites lecturers and students to document things related to language and culture together.

Hopefully this book can inspire other lecturers and students to write things related to language and culture. Through the publishers of Tonggak Tuo, we are trying to make our dreams come true in the field of writing.
